

OLD COLONY RAILROAD

Duxbury Clipper, Thursday, July 31, 1980

After reading the Ed Peterson story in last week's "Clipper," Mrs. Arthur Short of Island Creek dug out this picture of the 1919 train wreck. Her father was Walter Churchill, the iceman, who lived on Chestnut St. In 1919 he worked as a maintenance man on the railroad. He said that they worked "around the clock" to get the trains moving again.
